COR-08 (Summary)
December 22, 1977

This is information from an entity named Arorc given to the Explorer.

COR finds a space beacon, understands who she is and why she came to earth

COR sees the spacecraft and describes it. Then she sees a beacon (satellite) out in space. It receives thoughts, unscramles them, and transmits the thoughts. They are waiting for people to notice the beacon, which was placed there long ago. There aren't many people on the earth connecting with the beacon, as the people on the planet are lost. The planet has a darkness or heaviness that traps people and makes it hard to break through. People – "those dummies!--have taken the easy route, aren't trying to breaking through the heavinees/darkness. COR is aware that she is in Bob and Nancy's house and also is perched on the beacon. (19:50) She senses that she is part of all of it: the space craft, the galaxies, the great infinity. The vastness is a "self thinking entity." It's the axle, which is "of the great magnitude of what we are involved in, and the axle is oneness."

(26:30) Any desire can be directed to the beacon, which transmits those thoughts out. The beacon is there because beings lose their purity and learning when going to earth. It's like a decomposing when someone enters the earth, taking on the form of the inhabitants. COR doesn't understand why earth's inhabitants are enraptured with the lifestyle, complacent, and not trying to remember who they are.

(34:30) The building that will take place on the New Land will be the focal point, beacon for all people. It's important to reach key people, who will in turn reach everyone. Everyone came from "out here," must be reached (awakened), though some will choose to stay (in an unawakened state.) COR says the rining in her ears, which she has always heard, originates from the beacon.

(38:30) The beacon/satellite receives signals from out there and transmits them to the earth. A tower with a tip on it receives the signals and helps to break thru the muck.The muck both wipes people's memories and helps them exist in earth reality. There is a sticky substance on the earth's surface that holds people. It is strong, caused by an imbalance from people getting used to the lifestyle. People are trapped. COR's group doesn't want to send more for fear they'll get trapped too.

(42:25) The power is very strong. It is not a being, nor is it the earth itself. It's very heavy and negative. The planet is in a lot of trouble because of this negative source.

Other comments: COR has a tough time staying focused and completing her thoughts. This is an ecstatic experince for her. At times she rambled, needing Bob to help her stay on task.
